Assignment #4

The job I would want in the film industry would be being a storyboard artist. I can see myself doing this job because I love to draw and I also like making characters. In order for me to get this job I believe I would first have to go to college and study animation or art. Then after that I would have to apply for jobs and volunteer hours for experience. Thirdly I think I would need to get a job at a studio and work from entry level employee, up the in rankings.
